Law proceedings will be taken to try and compel Presque Isle county to pay the entire amount. They are willing to pay about $4,000.

Two weeks ago we stated that two firemen had their feet caught while ascending the new extension ladders, at the Alpine block fire. We have since been informed that the fault was due to the inexperience of the men using the ladders, and not the ladders themselves. We have since seen the ladders thoroughly tested, and they work to a nicety in every particular.

The remains of Mrs. Will Leavitt, oldest daughter of A. N. Spratt, were brought to town Saturday from Detroit. A few days previous the deceased had been taken to Harper hospital, Detroit, to have an operation performed, being afflicted with an abscess. She was an estimable lady and leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her untimely departure. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon, from the residence of Mr. Spratt.

The following resolution was passed by the Board of Supervisors at their last meeting: "RESOLVED, That hereafter only statutory fees for the issuing and serving of criminal process and court fees will be allowed by the Board." The object of the resolution is to prevent such large officer's fees as have been presented to the board. If the board could find some way to reduce the large incentive fees they would do the tax payers a great benefit.

The tower of the Sherman House, on Fletcher street, was discovered to be ablaze on the inside, early Friday morning. The fire department was summoned and did such good work that the flame was soon subdued and not much damage was done. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an unknown man who had gained entrance to the upper part of the tower, by fire from his pipe or by matches. This unknown individual woke up, found his room full of smoke, gave the alarm and then disappeared.

Some of the employees of the Detroit, Bay City & Alpena railroad, at Tawas, chartered a train to give an excursion to this city, Sunday, and were well patronized. The train, consisting of engine seven, three coaches and a baggage car, arrived in this city about ten o'clock in the forenoon. Every coach was full of people, most of whom seemed to have either relatives or friends here. The visitors were from Tawas, Au Sable and other towns along the road, and were accompanied by a band composed of musicians from Tawas and Au Sable. They had a most beautiful day, and we trust everyone enjoyed the short visit.

The sulphite paper pulp factory of Geo. N. Fletcher & Sons was set to work Monday morning, the first in three months, it having been closed owing to the firm being unable to sell the pulp as fast as manufactured. Since the closing most of the pulp that was in the store house has been shipped. The wash room machinery will not be in operation until the latter part of the week, as several days' time are required to saw the wood and boil it in the digesters. The saving machinery is first operated, then follows the boiling of the wood in the acid, and last of all is the work done in the wash room. We hope the factory will be steadily run all winter.

The Hillman Telegraph has the following to say in regard to the shooting of Mrs. Gohl, in Montmorency county: "On Tuesday morning old Mrs. Gohl was on her way home from John Margason's, in Rust township, when she stepped off into the woods to pick some beech nuts, when an old man named Hatch came prowling through the woods in that direction, with a rifle, and seeing an object, which he took for a bear, took aim and fired, the ball passing through the unfortunate woman's shoulder and lodged in the lower extremities of her person." Mrs. Gohl died from the effects of the shot, and her remains were brought to this city for burial.

The bill of Congressman Weadock for the division of the U. S.

eastern judicial district of Michigan, has been favorably reported by the Committee on Judiciary, and placed on the House calendar. It provides that the counties of Alpena, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Oshtemo, Montmorency, Crawford, Alcona, Roscommon, Ogemaw, Isosco, Clare, Gladwin, Arenac, Isabella, Midland, Bay, Tuscola, Huron, Gratiot, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Genesee and Oscoda shall constitute the northern district, and that the "court shall be held semi-annually at Bay City, in May and October, and there shall also be an adjourned term in February of each year, for admiralty cases." Some time ago Congress made an appropriation of $200,000 for erecting a federal building at Bay City, and the edifice is nearly completed. The court will be held in that building.

Midway Pkaiance at the Rink.

One of the most agreeable and entertaining public amusements that has been given in the city, was the Midway Pkaiance, arranged at the rink by the ladies of the Congregational church, on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week, and Saturday afternoon. It was admirably designed, and well worth a visit.

As a person entered the rink he saw a lively scene before him, and one that could not fail to bring a pleased look to his features. On the right was a finely constructed Japanese booth, where many articles could be purchased of the fair attendants. The next was a magnificent Russian booth, and then a pretty and tastefully decorated booth where delicious coffee could be obtained at fair prices. The next was the Japanese village, in which were several children dressed in the costume of the country, and who gave pleasing entertainments at short intervals. The visitor now arrived at the entrance to the street of Cairo, and five cents purchased an admission. The street was as good an imitation of the one at Midway as could be expected, and was well worth visiting. In it were Turks, Turkish ladies, bazaar, a fortune teller, and two little Shetland ponies that were made to serve as donkeys. Those who designed the street and constructed it deserve much praise for the work they did. Continuing the tour a group of Brownies came to view, and a more lively place could not be found. The antics of the little folks were so amusing that there was always a crowd of pleased spectators in front. The Moorish ladies were the next place for the visitor, being beautifully designed, and received much praise from those who visited it. It was easy to tell the next place from the war whoops of those inside, indicating plainly where the Indian village was located. In the inclosure were erected several wigwags, and among the residents could be found many noted representatives of the red man. The village and its gaudily dressed inhabitants were a source of great amusement, and many a shout of merriment rang from that part of the Midway. A visit to the ostrich farm ended the sight seeing on the lower floor. The make-up of the ostriches reflect much credit on those who superintended the work, and made a notable exhibit.

In the upper room was the international congress of beauty, consisting of many ladies dressed in the costumes of the various countries of the world. At the entrance a native of Scotland welcomed the crowds of visitors with lively music from the bag pipes.

About ten o'clock Saturday evening every one in costume formed in parade and marched several times around the rink, thus giving the spectators a good chance to see Midway's inhabitants. There were Turks, Moors, Japanese, Indians, ostriches, women of all nations and Brownies, and the picture they presented as they marched around the rink was worth the price of admission alone.

On the main street of Midway were Columbian Guards, palquin bearers, rolling chairs, donkeys, etc., and the scene bore a remarkable resemblance to the real Midway, with its noises, music, war whoops, and great variety of costumes worn by those who wandered about the floor.

The attendance was large, and the Congregational society must have cleared over $100, besides which many hundreds of people were given an entertainment of pleasure at light expense to the spectator.

To erect Midway as it was, took a great amount of work on the part of those who got up the entertainment, but they have the gratification of knowing they made a success and furnished the people with very pleasant evenings' enjoyment.

Be on your Guard.

If some grocers urge another baking powder upon you in place of the "Royal," it is because of the greater profit upon it. This of itself is evidence of the superiority of the "Royal." To give greater profit the other must be a lower cost powder, and to cost less it must be made with cheaper and inferior materials, and thus, though selling for the same, give less value to the consumer.

To insure the finest cake, the most wholesome food, be sure that no substitute for Royal Baking Powder is accepted by you.

Nothing can be substituted for the Royal Baking Powder and give as good results.

Knowledge is Power.

A man without education is always at a disadvantage. In business he is at the mercy of others. Many men and women, from various causes, have failed to obtain a useful education in early youth. These men are the less.
